Procedure:

A simple application form can be obtained from the Gurdwara during normal opening times or from the Website. Please bring in the completed form and a passport sized photograph of the applicant. Once you and the consultant are satisfied with the form, you will be given a registration number which must be used in all communications with the matrimonial services.

How does the service work?

An up to date list of matrimonial applicants looking for partners is produced and placed on the Gurdwara's notice board and website. The list includes minimal information including D.O.B, Height, Qualification and Occupation. If any one is interested, take a note of his or her registration number. Once this registration number is presented, the consultant is able to discuss any relevant information relating to the individual. If you are still interested, the consultant will contact the other party on your behalf to inform them that there has been an interest in their application and they will be invited to discuss interested parties details. If they too are happy with your details, the consultant organises for you and the other individual to meet at our premises. There will be no involvement of the consultants in this meeting apart from introduction.

Please inform us the outcome of your meetings / negotiations & of any relevant changes in your situation/circumstances.

This information and service is exclusive to registered matrimonial members only.

Withdrawals

You can withdraw from the service at any time by writing to us.

Note: Lists from other organisations will also be displayed for your information.
